MEXICAN LEADERS WARNED THEY MUST ACT FOR PEACE

President Wilson Says This Country
Will Interfere Unless the Trouble
Ends at Once.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, June 2.—President Wilson served warning on the leaders of the warring factions in Mexico "to act promptly for the relief and redemption of the prostrate country" of the United States will be compelled to invade the interior to be employed in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people. The president suggested that the administration lend its "active moral support" to some man or group of men "if such men be found who can rally the suffering people of Mexico in an effort to ignore if they can't unite the warring factions of the country."

"This is the only hint given by the chief executive as to the means to be employed should the leaders not be able to agree on terms of peace and end the deplorable conditions in the republic which have brought the people to a point of starvation and caused 'the people of Mexico to cry out for food.'"
The administration's message has been sent to all the American people but copies have also been sent to all faction leaders of Mexico for their information and guidance. The state department is charged with the duty of its dissemination in Mexico.

AMBASSADORS CALLED UPON THE PRESIDENT

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, June 2.—Only by a narrow margin did the German ambassador, Count Von Bernstorff, and the Italian ambassador, Marquis di Celleri, escape meeting each other in the lobby of the White House today. The diplomatic faux-pas was averted by the presence of mind of the lynx-eyed White House attaché who escorted the Marquis into an anteroom out of view and remained there with him until after the German ambassador had left the White House.

The German ambassador was in conference with President Wilson for ten minutes regarding the crisis existing between this country and Germany. He had nothing to say regarding his call as he left the executive mansion. Nothing has yet been learned of the purpose of the call or the outcome of the discussion.
The Italian ambassador called on President Wilson to thank him officially for permitting the American ambassador in Vienna to look after the affairs of Italy in Austria while the two countries are at war.

German Submarine Torpedoed British Steamer Saidieh Without Warning in North Sea

Bulgaria and Roumania to Enter War on Side of Allies

(Special to The Herald)
London, June 2.—The British steamship Saidieh, a vessel of 3303 tons, bound from Alexandria, Egypt, to Hull, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the North Sea on Tuesday.
The Saidieh was a mail carrying steamer, hailing from London, and was built in 1878.
Seven male members of the crew and a stewardess were drowned. The survivors of the ship's crew and her passengers were landed at Chatham. They declared that the ship was attacked without warning, and sank within fifteen minutes.

Paris, June 2.—Bulgaria and Roumania have arrived at an understanding by which these two countries will enter the war simultaneously on the side of the Entente powers, according to a Bucharest dispatch to a Paris newspaper. Roumania is reported to have agreed to cede territory in Dobruka to Bulgaria to offset the German influences in Sophia. The military staffs in both countries are working night and day.

FRENCH MAKING STRONG EFFORTS TO CAPTURE "LABYRINTH"

(Special to The Herald)
Paris, June 2.—The tremendously strong German fortress known as the "Labyrinth," southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast, is being stormed by day and night attacks. The violent fighting around these works is the chief feature of the official communications issued by the French war office today on the operations of Northern France.

On account of the intricate nature, the defenses must be taken one at a time. The Labyrinth consists of lines of breastworks, fortified trenches and fortified attacks, defended by vast numbers of men and hundreds of cleverly concealed machine guns and cannon. The loss of life here is very heavy on both sides. The French have taken another group of houses at Neuville-St. Vaast and 150 more German prisoners since Monday. The Germans have bombarded the cathedral at Rheims a second time within thirty-six hours.

DANISH STEAMER CAPTURED.
(Special to The Herald)
Copenhagen, June 2.—The Danish steamer Ajax, bound from Scotland to Koge, with a cargo of coal, was captured today by a German destroyer. The Ajax was seized in Koge bay, which is Danish waters, and taken to a German port.

BRITISH AEROPLANE DESTROYED
(Special to The Herald)
Berlin, June 2.—News of the destruction of a British aeroplane at Blixschote, Belgium, is contained in an official statement issued by the German war office today. The statement adds that the occupants were taken prisoners.

The German war office admits the loss of some of the outer defenses at Neuville-St. Vaast, but claims the recapture of the sugar works at Souchez, around which hard fighting has been in progress since Monday.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE MANY PRISONERS

PAN AMERICAN DELEGATES CHEER NEW NATION PLAN

Philadelphia, June 1.—A declaration of interdependence which would pave the way for a new "Nation of Nations" was proposed today by Mayor Blankenburg of Philadelphia, speaking in Independence Hall to the delegates to the recent Pan-American financial conference, guests of the city for the day. The mayor proposed also the use of an international flag to protect commerce on the high seas. "I believe," he said, "the need is so great for such a flag that the peoples still unitedly respond to a call for the nations to get together to decide on its purposes."

"Upon this meeting, properly followed up," said the mayor, "may be organized a new nation of nations. This is the shrine, the Mecca where all Americans should and do worship. The time has been when 13 or more nations on this continent should sign a declaration of interdependence. Can we not worm such a union that would be absolutely irresistible?"

The mayor's suggestion was greeted with cheers by the delegates and Don Gonzales Buñes of Chili said, "The adoption of such a suggestion would lead to peace and good will. Señor Pablo y Galdos of Cuba presided at the meeting. He sat in the chair occupied by John Hancock as presiding officer over the meeting which framed the Declaration of Independence 130 years ago."

ANTI SUFFRAGE NOTES

Suffragists Tell You

1. That woman suffrage will do away with saloons.

According to Sen. Works of California, San Francisco, where women vote, has 3,600 saloons; Boston which is 1 1/2 times as large, has less than 700 saloons. Cambridge has been dry for twenty years. No city of its size in any suffrage state has ever voted itself dry. Springfield, the capital of Illinois, went wet, 4,800 women voting for saloons, 4,300 against. At the same time Lansing, the capital of Michigan, with only men voting, went dry. The women of Reno, Nevada have just voted against reducing the number of saloons.

2. That woman suffrage is needed to lessen infant mortality.

Montclair, N. J., leads the whole country in its reduction of infant mortality, and New Jersey women do not vote, the ballot having been taken away from them in 1844. Of the large cities of the country, New York, Boston and St. Louis lead, and in none of these do women vote.

3. That woman suffrage will improve moral conditions.

In Denver, Judge Lindsey says cases on sex charges coming before his court have increased 300 per cent. He says suffrage leads to feminism, which means "looser women," and that "it is time to call a halt." In San Francisco questionable dance halls have increased since women have had the vote, and at the election in Nov. 1914, state prohibition, an eight hour law, the abatement of houses of prostitution, abolition of prize fighting, a minimum wage for women, and one day of rest in seven were all defeated by big majorities.

The women of Nevada have just voted in favor of the six months divorce law.

4. That woman suffrage is needed to do away with Child Labor.

The National Child Labor Committee, the highest authority in this country says the child labor laws are better in male suffrage than in woman suffrage states. Such laws are constantly improving without the women's votes.

5. That immoral women will not vote.

Dr. Helen Sumner, a suffragist, in her book on "Equal Suffrage, the results of an investigation in Colorado" says: on page 93, "The red light district is freely used by the party in power, and its women are compelled, not merely to vote but, often to repeat." On page 84, she says "The vote of these women, to whom the police protection is essential, is regarded as one of the perquisites of the party in power."

The San Francisco Examiner of Nov. 4, the day after election says: "McDonough Bros. had several automobiles busy all day long hauling Barbary Coast dance girls and inmates of Commercial street houses to the different booths, and always the women were supplied with marked sample ballots."

6. That the working girl needs the vote for her own protection.

The laws protecting women in industry are better in male suffrage than in woman suffrage states. A bill to allow women and children to work 12 hours a day in canneries has just been defeated in New York, where only men vote, while in California, Washington, and Oregon, where women vote, there is absolutely no restriction as to the hours women and children may work in canneries. There are no laws forbidding night work for women in any suffrage state.

7. That the tax paying woman needs the vote.

Colorado has the highest tax rate of any state in the Union, and the poorest protection to life and property. Woman suffrage increases taxes. Do tax paying women want to pay higher taxes? Under woman suffrage the proportion of tax paying voters would be greatly decreased so property would be less secure of protection.

8. That Equal Suffrage will bring equal pay for equal work.

In Colorado, according to the 14th Biennial report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the average wage for men for a nine-hour day in bakeries is $2.66; of women for an eight-hour day $1.00; in confectionery companies, men ten-hour day, $2.50; women, eight-hour day, $1.30; in printing establishments, men, eight-hour day, $3.25; women eight-hour day, $2.00; in dry goods establishments, men, ten-hour day, $3.00; women, eight-hour day, $1.80.

Women have voted in Colorado for 20 years.

In New York women teachers without the vote have secured equal pay with men teachers.

9. That there is no instance on record of divorce arising from anything connected with the ballot.

Mrs. Alex Jarmuth, who took a leading part in the campaign for woman suffrage in the state of Washington was sued for divorce last winter on the ground of abandonment, by her husband who lives in Seattle. When women got the vote in Washington, Mrs. Jarmuth lost all interest in it, and moved to New York to continue the agitation for suffrage where it is at its height—a proof of the Anti-suffrage contention that what many women want many women want is not to vote, but to agitate for the vote. Mr. Jarmuth in his bill for divorce alleges that his wife's enthusiasm for suffrage has destroyed the domestic side of her nature. Many other cases of homes disrupted by the political activities of the wife are known to people who are informed on the subject.

The divorce rate per 100,000 of married population in Colorado is 40, in Wyoming 30; while in the adjoining male suffrage states of Nebraska and South Dakota the rates are only 23 and 27 respectively.

10. That woman suffrage will do away with strikes.

No state in the Union has such savage conflicts between capital and labor as Colorado, where women have voted since 1893. For nearly a year the presence of Federal troops alone prevented the horrors of Civil War.

11. That women are powerless to improve civic conditions without the vote.

Mrs. Beth et Lawrence the English militant, admits that this is not the case. She says: "I never say so many women working for social betterment as I have seen in the American cities I have visited. In England the women have turned their attention to politics and have accomplished nothing like so much in civic reform." And Mrs. Vickery, a prominent social worker in New South Wales, where women vote, says: "Suffragists are leaving the real work for an empty cry. Women's votes don't bring about reforms; it is women's endeavors and hard struggles against evils. Government listens to women far more when they have not got the vote, because it knows there is no party to think about."

All that woman suffrage does is to increase taxes and weaken the government.

Do you want a weaker government and higher taxes?

How Studebaker cars are built—Ignition

SURE steady firing at any speed

Magneto? No, sir! Better than that—the Studebaker-Wagner Electric System that's built to order for Studebaker Cars. Lots of cars, of course, are still using magnetos. But study of the leading cars at the Auto Shows disclosed that more than 52% of the high-grade cars are using a battery-ignition system.

And the reason is simply that electric-system ignition is better than the magneto. When the motor is turning fast, the magneto is satisfactory. But the minute you slow up on a grade or in city traffic the energy developed by the magneto weakens—and that is just when you need ignition energy most.

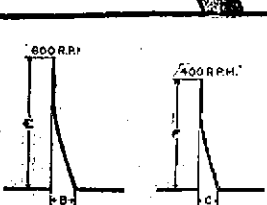

For when the motor is running at low speeds and the charge is highly compressed, it takes a hotter spark to fire it. And that's why Studebaker is using this battery-ignition system, which is not only simpler but MORE RELIABLE, because it insures maximum voltage at low speeds as well as at high speeds.

It guarantees SURE, steady firing. For the storage battery is ready to deliver the maximum voltage at all times. The motor doesn't skip or miss at low speed. And it PULLS steadily and tenaciously ALL the time the car is moving. Guarantees the CERTAINTY of operation that a man looks for in this car

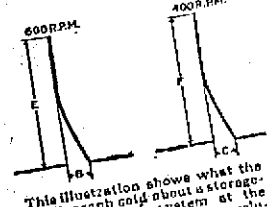

-Because it's a

Studebaker

But why not come in and look over this Studebaker ignition system on the car itself. Like to show you the simple wiring system and all the details. Like to have you see the car, too, and know the convenience and the COMFORT and the safety that's built into it. And we'll gladly arrange for any kind of tests you like—hills, roughest roads, anything. Will you phone us? Or if you can't come in, write for our booklet on the Studebaker Electric System.

The oscillating graph shows the energy that is developed by a magneto or other firing system and how it varies when the speed of the motor varies. This illustration is a record showing the variation in the energy of a magneto when the motor was turning 600 times a minute and 400 times a minute.

This illustration shows what the oscillating graph could about a storage-battery ignition system at the battery-ignition system at 400 revolutions a minute the energy produced was equal to that at 600 revolutions of the motor a minute. That is why a battery-ignition system is much better than the magneto—it is DEPENDABLE at all speeds.

Winners Batted in Seven Big Runs in the First Inning

The Portsmouth Athletic Club won last evening's game in the first inning when they piled up seven big runs on the Morley Button Co. off Tommie Pilgrim and incidentally they climbed up a little in the standing. They are now in second place, having won three of their four games, but the first position is still some ways ahead of them as the Y. M. C. A. team in today's game will stack up against the Marines and if they should be defeated, as is not considered probable, the Y. M. C. A. will still remain in the lead with a percentage of .300 as against the P. A. C. .750.

But the league standing didn't figure into day's game from the standpoint of the fans and it was a good game to watch even if it wasn't exactly a tight ball. The fan may say that he likes to see a pitcher's battle and a one to nothing score, but he will always stand up and yell his head off when someone lends on one and the ball goes out over the field's head. Yesterday's game was a good one to watch, and there were a couple of pretty fine catches made in the outfield and some mighty good playing anding the infielders.

Tommie Lynskey grabbed two after hard running, the kind that made the fans stand up when this speaker used to get after them, and Bill Brackett went after one in the fourth, running into Billy Woods, both men hitting the dirt, but he held onto the ball and attempted to get it in for a double. The game was held up several minutes as both Woods and Brackett were injured by the crash, Woods sustaining a bad cut over the eye and Brackett having his wind knocked out of him. Both men were game and finished the session.

Jefferson, who has been pitching for the Morley Button Company, changed positions with Pilgrim. This was Tommie's first appearance on the rubber this season, although he was a familiar figure there last year. After the game the P. A. C. took the field and the game was on.

The Game

1st Inning.—McDonald hit a hot one to third and Brackett made a good stop but threw too high and the runner was safe. Able picked out one that looked good to him and belted it out to center for the entire circuit. Leary hit Pilgrim with a pitched ball. Jefferson fanned. Moser hit safe over second, Pilgrim taking third. Mates fanned out. Two runs.

R. Brackett was passed and made second when McDonald dropped the throw from Barratt, which was perfect. W. Brackett hit to the first baseman but Pilgrim was slow covering the bag and he was safe. The Brackett brothers pulled off a neat double steal. Howard drew a free pass. Leary, with three and two, slammed one out to right field for two bases and three runs came in. Lynskey poked a neat single into center, scoring Leary. He stole second. C. Brackett was walked. Woods eluded a Texas Leaguer and C. Brackett was out attempting to steal home. McDonald to Barratt. Leary hit safe one, but was forced out at second on Harrington's hit. Moser to McDonald. R. Brackett came up for the second time in the inning and hit a safe one, scoring Harrington from second. W. Brackett fled out to Mates. Seven runs.

2d Inning.—Barratt fled out to C. Brackett. Moran fled out to center. Leary, making the put-out. McDonald drew a base on balls. Able hit to Harrington who threw to W. Brackett, getting McDonald. No runs.

Howard fanned. Leary's fly was nipped by McDonald. Lynskey fled out to Huntton. No runs.

MINUTES IN MANHATTAN

New York, May 31.—I suppose the case of Eugenia Kelly, alleged incorrigible White Lighter, is being used as a text everywhere to preach a sermon on the evils of New York life.

But Eugenia, the girl who declared you "weren't anybody" unless you went to at least five palaces of gaiety an evening, might have led the existence which caused her mother to bring her into the police court in San Francisco of Kansas City as well as Manhattan—or for that matter in any large European city if it were not for war-enforced combersness.

Nine out of ten young men—you've got to face the facts—consider it the height of desirable enjoyment to skip around from place to place, exhibit their nimbleness on the waxen floor absorbing cigarette smoke, divers liquors and animated conversation.

With this the accepted routine for the young man, you come smack up against the double standard. Why not for the young woman if she can afford it? Eugenia decided there was no reason. She was going to have a fortune of a million fall due in a few months and didn't see why she shouldn't enjoy herself in the accepted masculine style.

And there are Eugenias everywhere nowadays. The only thing that will check them will be poverty, war or prohibition.

Sometime ago Gotham Knickerbocker reported a conversation with a nation keeper who complained that men spent their money on movies instead of booze these days. Magistrate John A. Leah of Queens has now supplied me with some statistics bearing out the cafe proprietor's observations.

In the boroughs of Queens and Richmond the total population was 1,775,100 in 1907 and there were 15,000 arrangements for intoxication that year. Last year the population increased to 2,267,625 but the drunk cases had dropped to 8,382 or less than half in proportion to the inhabitants.

"We magistrates have talked it over and agree that while education, newspaper advice and the distrust of drink by employers has done something, the principal aid has been the moving pictures theatres," His Honor told me.

"The workmen who formerly went to the saloon as the workingman's club, now goes to the picture show and takes his family. That is now the chief amusement of the workman."

In a little brick cottage on North Brother Island lives Miss Mary Halsey. Twice a week gentlemen from the Board of Health call upon her and leave her about a billion germs. They intend to keep this up for a year or more and plant in her at least 50 billion in germs.

Cruelty? Well she doesn't like it, but this is the famous "Typhoid Mary" whose habit of carrying around germs which killed members of families employed by her as a cook has caused her to be treated in some respects like a criminal.

So Mary has been incarcerated for the good of humanity and Dr. William H. Park, head of the city's bacteriological laboratory is trying to fight the germs.

As to Mary's own attitude toward germs she doesn't mind them a bit. But she doesn't think the fame of being celebrated in the annals of medicine as the first typhoid discoverer ever discovered recompenses her for having to spend her days on a bit of land in New York harbor even if she is a star boarder with no board to pay. There's such a thing as being too generous.

Certainly the biggest thing of its kind in the world is the new Yale Club which will open up next week of the Grand Central Terminal in a few weeks. The home for the metropolitan activities of New Haven graduates is twenty stories high and cost about a million dollars.

The club will have its wine cellars, but they will be on the roof. This is because the Grand Central, New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads need the place where the wine cellars naturally would be to stable their trains.

Convivial undergraduates Yaleens who have tarried too long over the contents of the wine casks on the twentieth story thus have their way back to their student lamps and their midnight oil made easy. They have only to reach the elevator, descend to the depths and inform the porters which train they would like to be carried to.

The Yale young men had to have a swimming pool basement or no basement. So they have made the fifth floor water tight and will splash about there to their hearts content.

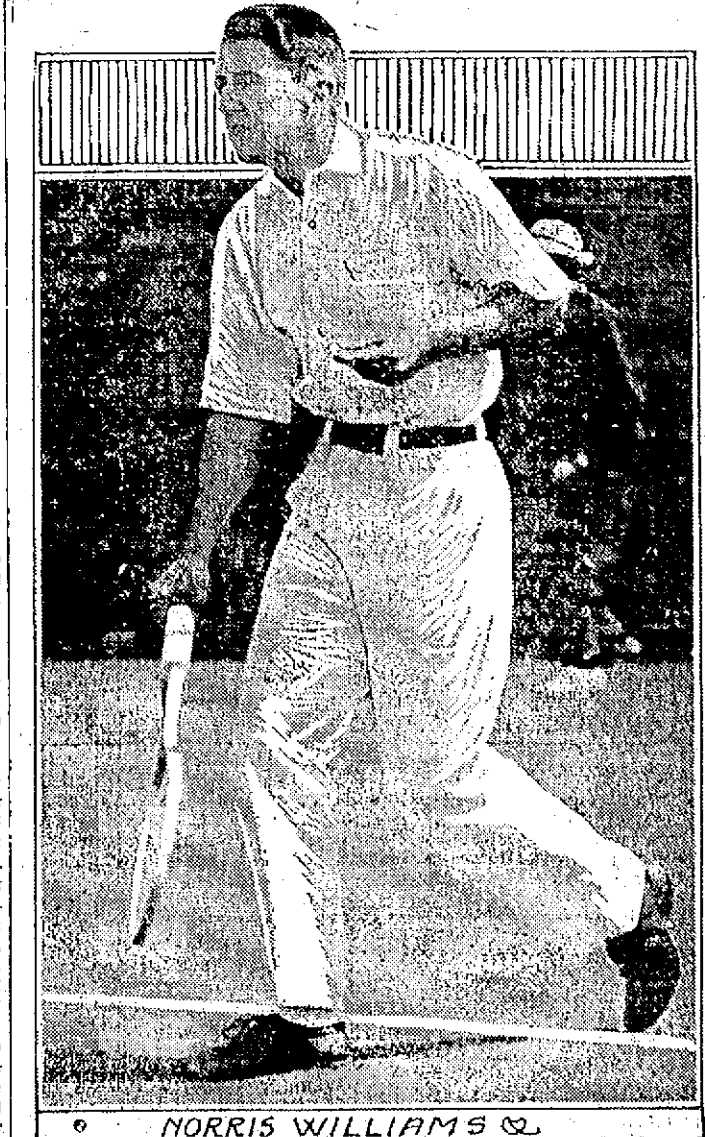

Ten floors are given up to 160 bedrooms. Another floor is the gymnasium where are to be seen two stationary bicycles geared to a speedometer. The hand of the dial for one bicycle is red and the other the color made famous by a college situated in Cambridge, Mass.

Better get one of The Herald's new flags before it is too late.

EXPERTS FIGURE WILLIAMS HAS GOOD CHANCE TO DEFEAT M'LOUGHLIN AGAIN FOR NATIONAL TITLE.

NORRIS WILLIAMS

New York, June 2.—Although the majority of lawn tennis experts are of the opinion that Maurice McLaughlin, the sensational California racket wielder, will carry off the national championship honors with ease, there are a number who believe R. Norris Williams, the ex-Harvard star, will take him into camp. Last season at Newport Williams defeated McLaughlin for the title. Experts declared McLaughlin was not himself in the Newport tourney, but others say the ex-Harvard man on that day could have beaten McLaughlin with the latter at his best. As Williams and McLaughlin will clash several times this season, besides meeting in the national championship, the followers of the two will have ample opportunity to look over their favorites.

PRESIDENT WILL TAKE FIRM STAND

MR. WILSON IS BOUND TO DEMAND ASSURANCE FOR AMERICAN LIVES.

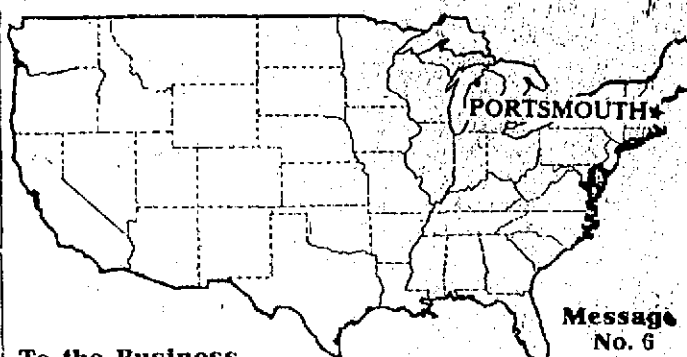

After discussing with the Cabinet today the course to be pursued by the United States with regard to further exchanges with Germany over the Lusitania outrage, President Wilson and his advisers in the State Department began work on a rejoinder. It is generally believed that the American counter to the German reply will be brief and emphatic, and that the determination of the Government to protect its citizens on the high seas, whether on belligerent or neutral merchantmen, will be even more strongly made clear than was the case in the original communication. The note will not be despatched to Germany, however, until after the interview which the President has accorded to Ambassador Bernstorff for tomorrow. The nature of the communication which Count von Bernstorff wishes to make has afforded food for considerable discussion in Washington. It is specifically stated that the ambassador will have nothing new to present from his Government, but that he is acting in a semi-official capacity only.

DAMAGE DONE AT MONFALCONE

Italian Destroyers Bombard Shipyard and Sink Supply Craft in Harbor

Rome, June 1.—An official report issued by the Admiralty yesterday said:

"Monday morning our destroyer flotilla bombarded a shipyard at Monfalcone, causing considerable damage, as the commander of the destroyers was able to observe. Several large boats laden with flour were surprised and destroyed by the same flotilla, which returned, having accomplished its mission, without being hit by the fire of the guns on the Austrian coast. The crews suffered no loss."

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, June 2, 1915.

Why You Should Trade at Home.

With all the civic movements on foot in this city it seems as though some organization might form a committee—a Civic Pride Committee—to stop the trading that should be done here from going out of town. A committee of this sort would do a good work and the merchants would welcome any such movement.

There may have been times many years ago when the home stores offered less attractive merchandise than could be secured elsewhere, but those times are passed for good. The Portsmouth establishments are as up-to-date in the classes of goods handled as can be found in any city in the country and if it is a case of wanting something that a local store does not carry the merchant, as a general rule, will be pleased to get it for you. That will be to your benefit as well as to his. It is better for you inasmuch as it will save you the trouble of making a trip and spending money for fares. It will convince him that there is a demand for that sort of goods and it will allow him the profit that would go to the firm from which you must have made the purchase if you went out of town.

A few months ago a city was making a fight for home trading and signs were displayed in the street cars which read, "If you do your trading in some other city what will become of your own city?" and there is a great deal of sound common sense in the question.

If the question is asked in another manner: "If you do your trading in your own city, what will become of your city?" that answer is easy. The city will grow, and with every move in a forward direction it is your personal gain. One of the easiest ways in which you can help this city of Portsmouth—your own city—to grow is to do your trading right here. That is not asking any sacrifice on your part as you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by so doing.

All this is simply a matter of civic pride, and civic pride is just having pride in your own city.

If a merchant has as his motto, "No trouble to show goods," why not have civic pride enough to adopt the motto, "No trouble to look at goods" and then stick to it?

A tour of the stores in the shopping district will convince any one that the opportunity for purchasing favorably has done away with the necessity for visiting other places to secure desirable goods at reasonable prices. Habit is an important factor in human action and the habit of trading at home must be acquired by the residents of Portsmouth and if it is once acquired it will give better results in the long run than the practice of trading away from home whenever an important purchase is to be made.

Civic pride has not yet assumed the proportions that it should in this direction. The merchants of Portsmouth have shown great enterprise in the selection of goods for the inspection of their patrons and their efforts should be appreciated. Get together in this movement as well as in others and Portsmouth will grow accordingly. Trade in Portsmouth and watch the city grow. Take pride in the city, as can be done, and take pride in the stores. Take sufficient pride in them and your city to do your trading right here in the town and you can't lose out in the long run.

The motives of the thousands who are interceding for the Georgia man who is under sentence of death for murder are not to be questioned, but it is a question whether the state of Georgia should not be permitted to dispose of the case in its own way. The authorities of that state should be equal to the task, and it may be doubted that any improvement in the disposition of murder cases would follow the calling in of the whole country to act as a jury.

Gas is still playing its part as an instrument of warfare in Europe, but, according to reports, ways are being developed to offset this danger to a considerable extent. In the meantime the use of gas is no longer restricted to one side of the lines. Anything and everything that will kill is wanted on all sides. What a horrible mess it all is!

The crew of a ship that has reached New York from Cienfuegos with a cargo of sugar had a distressing voyage, heri beri having broken out among them, a disease from which eight of the members died. Sugar and berries are a popular combination at certain times of the year, but sugar ships and heri beri, whatever that may mean, make a bad mixture.

Governor Whitman and the United States supreme court are all that now stand between Police Lieutenant Becker of New York and the electric chair. But as in sickness there is hope while there is life, so in the cases of condemned men there is always hope so long as there is another court to be heard from.

In spite of their troubles the Germans are enjoying horse racing as usual and no prejudice whatever is displayed toward the American jockeys who are among the winners. The love of sport is almost as efficacious as the one touch of nature that makes the whole world kin.

PRESS GLEANINGS

Boys and Girls on the Street

The chief of police of Columbus, Ohio, has issued an order that boys and girls must be kept off the streets except as they have well-defined errands or business. Loitering and gadding about by the young people at all hours of day or night is the bane of city life in America. If we would save our youth from the worst possible influences we must see to it that they are not loafers and idlers. A street education has been the curse of thousands of young people and the example of the Columbus police chief should be followed everywhere. Now, if there could be a training school for parents instituted, so that they would understand how to make home the happiest and best place on earth to the children we should make rapid strides toward a better America.—Manchester Mirror.

The Duty of the Living

The exercises of yesterday are a reminder that the men who fought for the Union in the Civil war are a constantly diminishing host. In some places the annual parade has already been given up, and in others the signs are apparent which make it clear that such parades may not be held for many more years. More and more the duties which the veterans have always loved to perform for themselves are falling upon the Sons of Veterans, and this must be increasingly so in the years to come.

So much the more necessary does it become, therefore, that we, the living, to use Lincoln's words, take up the task that these men so nobly began, and that we shall highly resolve that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the face of the earth.

The battle for the unity of the republic, the battle for popular government is not confined to the past. It is fought not with muskpowder alone, but with many of the implements of peace, in fact the battlefield means but little so far as progress is concerned, unless in times of peace men live somewhere near up to the ideals for which men fought in war, unless they take pains to meet and to defeat the enemies who would undermine and destroy the institutions of the republic.

The growth of unwholesome industrial conditions, the prevalence of corrupt politics, the embracing of false political ideals may threaten the stability of the republic as effectively as armed revolt would do. The evils which breed in great cities, which fester in the midst of ignorant and vicious populations in times of peace, may contain even greater danger than an uprising which can be seen and so quickly subdued. It is against such evils and against the carelessness which would lead men to fail to defend themselves against the beginnings of attacks which contain the danger of our days. And it remains as the duty of the living to be ever watchful and ever industrious that each of these problems may be met and mastered, so that we may leave to our children a country which shall be not less but greater than it was when we received it.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT

New York, June 2.—Columbia University held its annual commencement exercises here today. The class of 1895 celebrated its 50th, and the class of 1894 its 25th anniversary, the latter class presenting to the university this morning a handsome python, which stands at Broadway and 168th streets. Large crowds saw the annual academic procession. Following this the degrees were awarded. The graduates then gathered for the alumni luncheon in the gymnasium, the alumni marching in under their class standards.

Dean J. Howard Van Amringe of the class of '60 presided at the luncheon and President Nicholas Murray Butler gave a resume of college affairs.

This ended the formalities and the fun began. The alumni broke loose with their costume parade on South Field. After a procession the class held stunts for which prizes were offered.

Why wouldn't it be a pretty nice thing if the city was to provide a few hand concerts one evening a week during the summer months?

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Suppose it is the name of a product. Or the name of a merchant or store. And the name has been made known to you through newspaper advertising. And service of goods have run true to the name. Does not that name mean something? Does it not inspire confidence and desire? Does not the name come instinctively to your mind when you have a desire to buy? Making a "Name"—that is what newspaper advertising means to the individual customer.

Rushing Work on New Jersey at Boston

Work in repairing the gun carriages and in replacing the dismantled mounts on the U. S. S. New Jersey that figured in an accident early Saturday evening at it was entering Pier 6 at the Charlestown navy yard, began Tuesday.

When the New Jersey was entering the navy yard dock Saturday evening the high wind and strong current made the handling of the big vessel difficult in the small body of water.

The gale drove the propelling guns into the edge of the pier, ripped up the beams here and there, torn the guns from their gun carriages and impaired the condition and serviceability of the guns.

The repair of the carriages and installation of new 12-inch guns was begun with despatch yesterday. The new 12-inch rifles are of the modern type. The battleship will be in readiness for service within 10 days at the outside, it is said.

There are also ten destroyers and seven auxiliary craft at the yard.

HOLLAND AND THE VATICAN

The Hague, June 2.—Strange things have been brought about in Europe by the great war, not the least surprising of which is the rumored healing of the breach between Holland and the Vatican. Monsignor Nolens, leader of the Catholics in the Second Chamber of the Netherlands has undertaken to go to Rome and all sorts of reports are current about the object of his mission. It is believed by interested Roman Catholics here that the journey to Rome of Monsignor Nolens is in the interest of the resumption in diplomatic relations between the Hague and the Holy See.

The Catholic newspapers here have stated flatly that Dr. Nolens is on his way to the Eternal City to re-establish the relations said to be desired by both the Dutch government and the

CURRENT OPINION

Great Foundations of Wealth Repugnant to the Idea of Democracy.

Government ownership and control of all public utilities and all natural resources, such as forests, mines and water power, is the only solution of the great problem of the day—unrest among the people and continued clash of capital and labor.

Great foundations of wealth are repugnant to the whole idea of democracy. The men who are directing these foundations are undoubtedly men of wisdom and high minded persons, but the income of the fund of one hundred million dollars is coming from the work of laboring men. The directors, it must be remembered, are chosen by men behind the foundations, so that here in a democratic country and atmosphere we have an institution essentially autocratic in spirit and government.

The influence of these great accumulations of wealth may be powerful enough to sway great public controversies.

Tens of thousands of people in educational and other institutions are hatched up to these powerful interests, which are bound to exert great influence. —By Rev. Dr. John Haynes Holmes, Church of the Messiah, New York City.

It has been given out officially however that Monsignor Nolens went to Rome at the invitation of the Holy Father to discuss with the Pope the possibilities of restoring peace in Europe, in which work it is stated the Pope plans to make use of the Dutch diplomatic service as well as the ecclesiastical channels at his disposal so as to make himself heard both in the worldly and spiritual way.

It was in November, 1871, that the final breach between the Vatican and Holland occurred. Relations had been strained for some time but at that time the Second Chamber refused to appropriate the money necessary to maintain an envoy at the Vatican. Thus the break became official, though the Vatican always has kept a charge d'affaires at the Dutch capital, with the exception of a few years after the first peace conference, when the Pope refused admission.

Thus matters have stood for forty years. In that time the Catholics of Holland have increased in numbers and in power and influence.

That negotiations now are going on between the Pope and Queen Wilhelmina's government is absolutely true and that Dr. Nolens is the intermediary is equally true. None of the neutrals who want to see peace restored in Europe can afford to neglect the Pope's influence. The visit of St. Henry Howard to the Vatican indicates that Great Britain long ago reached the same conclusion.

The Pope is probably the only wholly disinterested power on earth who can see that justice be done and wrongs righted.

Far better than one of the minor neutral countries or a league of them, far better even than the United States, the Pope can take the lead now, or at a more opportune time in the near future to unite his spiritual force with the temporal power of those neutral countries in order to put pressure on the belligerents to make them desist from bloodshed and come to reason again—if they have any left.

Official statements on the situation are not forthcoming. The diplomats are just as secretive as though their words these days were just as dull and uninteresting as in normal times, but it reliably states that this is the mission of Monsignor Nolens to Rome.

STOP TURK RE-ENFORCEMENTS

London, June 1.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says it has been learned there that the transportation of Turkish troops to the Dardanelles has been interrupted by the operations of a British submarine which is cruising in front of Constantinople.

A despatch to the Times from Mytilene, dated Sunday, says:

"An enemy submarine shelter has been discovered in the vicinity of Avall, on the west coast of Asia Minor to which place British warships proceeded today. Sixty shots have since been heard coming from that vicinity leading to the belief that useful work has been accomplished."

All Majestic's Officers Saved
The Secretary of the Admiralty today made official announcement that all the officers of the British battleship Majestic, sunk May 27 off the Gallipoli peninsula by a submarine, had been saved.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Based on the Assumption that the Dietetic Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John F. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. Among the most important physiological importance is that lime is the only element in the body which is not inorganic. It is difficult to suppose that the cells can appropriate them for food."

Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Beckman's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells.

Do not doubt this has had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these affections, which appear to have yielded to Beckman's Alternative. Sold by Benjamin Green, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H.

IN PASSING

While we are passing through this sphere,
In life's career,
We should, to aid our fellow man,
Do all we can,
Wherever tears beseam a face,
With smiles replace,
And sorrow strive to change to joy,
Nor be too coy
To share another's heavy load
Along the road;
Lift up the fallen while they grope
Devoid of hope;
Nor despise the outcast we despise
With scornful eyes.
Wrong influence oft makes them thus,
As it would us,
And how to counteract the same
Should be our aim.
And let us not by word or deed
A bosom bleed,
And if we fall in doing good,
At least we should
Resentment never in others arm,
By doing harm.
The Golden Rule we should apply
Both far and nigh,
And if the present we exceed
By kindly deed,
For wrong inflicted, we shall know
How well we sow.

CABLE LETTER

Wellington, New Zealand, June 1.—A French Naval Reservist was at Taharua in the interior of the North Island of the New Zealand group, when the news of the world war finally penetrated to that spot. He immediately decided he must return to Paris. "To do so he had to reach Wellington. He had no money and being too proud to beg he set out on foot. The distance is 250 miles.

He would not accept any money from kindly disposed persons he met on the journey, only a little food. He ended the long tramp at about midnight a week after he started. Not a morsel of food had passed his lips since the second day before and a howling cold gale had almost frozen him.

Looking like an ordinary tramp he accosted a Wellington policeman and asked to be locked up so that his case would come to the notice of the French consul. The policeman, however gave him a meal, dry clothes and a bed and a few days later he embarked for France.

London, June 1.—To encourage the production of war munitions King George and the Crown Prince are making a series of surprise visits to the works. They are received with great enthusiasm.

ROUMANIA IS HESITATING

Rome, via Paris, June 1.—The Rome papers and people are absorbed in the question of the possible entrance of Bulgaria and Roumania in the war. There was a firm conviction among the people generally that Italy had only to declare war against Austria to bring in Roumania, but a week has passed and Roumania shows no disposition apparently to depart from her neutrality.

It is explained here in certain authoritative circles that Roumania is still negotiating with Great Britain, France and Russia for recognition of her claims. Late advice are to the effect that Russia especially is not inclined to give way to what she considers rather exaggerated demands, particularly in view of the fact that Italy is now at war, and this already has relieved the German and Austrian pressure, chiefly in Galicia.

CONSTANTINOPLE LOSING HEART

Athens, June 1.—The latest advices reaching here from Constantinople are to the effect that the battle cruiser Sultan Selim (formerly the Goeben of the German navy) has been victoriously dismantled. Recent developments at the Dardanelles are described as having cast a gloom over the Turkish capital, where there is a strong current of opinion in favor of opening the straits

FOUND DYING IN WOODS

Aged East Rochester Man Two Days Without Food.

East Rochester, June 2.—A two day search for Thomas McElroy, aged 78, who disappeared from his home here Sunday was brought to a tragic end Tuesday when members of the posse happened upon the exhausted old man as he lay in a stupor, with his clothing torn and features disfigured by hunger and exposure.

Sunday McElroy boarded a car for Shoreville, a mile away, but did not reach the village. Yesterday morning a woman residing near Shoreville, reported strange noises heard during the night, coming from the woods nearby. The old man's absence was at once coupled with this story, and it was feared that he had wandered off into the dense forest nearby.

Realizing that prompt action alone might save the man from a terrible death the town bells were made to send out an alarm, with the result that a large posse of citizens was soon gathered. Throughout the afternoon they scoured the countryside and returned at dusk, remaining in the village just long enough to take nourishment and procure torches and lanterns. Again they started out flashing their lights and calling out. But although they worked way into the night, being near exhaustion themselves, they were unable to locate any tangible clue to the man's whereabouts.

Tuesday morning they started out again. Towards the middle of the forenoon, Gordon Booth, Daniel Daly, and Arthur McGrills, who were searching together found Mr. McElroy. He was in a pitiable condition. As they broke through some underbrush in Frank Hall's woods and but a short distance from marshland, they saw the old man stretched out on the ground. He was thoroughly exhausted from his aimless wanderings and many hours without food. His clothing was half torn from his body and his face, hands, and exposed parts of his body were swollen and discolored, as he had been attacked by clouds of insects that infest the section.

City Marshal Cook was at once notified and with Dr. Forrest L. Keay, medical examiner, soon arrived, and superintended the removal of the half dead man to his home on Pearl street, where he resides with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Andrew McElroy.

He is in a precarious condition and it is feared that he will not recover. Yet, as attending authorities have stated, it is almost a miracle that a man of his age could live through such a trying experience.

Mr. McElroy has been a resident of East Rochester for many years and the death of his wife about a year ago is believed to have unbalanced his reason.

Penny Wise and Pound Foolish

Hard times make every woman look to see where she can save money, which, of course, is sensible and proper if not carried too far.

In the case of food it would be foolish to attempt to substitute sawdust for a breakfast food because it is cheaper. Everyone knows sawdust has no food value and its use would be a positive detriment to the health.

Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, adds only healthful qualities to the food.

The difference in cost of a pan of biscuits or of a cake made with Royal Baking Powder as compared with cheap alum or phosphate of lime powders is about one cent, which is surely too small an amount to warrant the risk.

ANTI SUFFRAGE NOTES

According to the Woman's Journal, women in Kankakee, Ill., are so interested in the civic league work that they have clubbed together and are hiring a maid to attend to the housekeeping of one of their number in order that she may give more of her time to "municipal housekeeping."

But we thought it was only to take twenty minutes to go to the polls and that politics would not interfere with home making?

Men, as a matter of courtesy, may unite and agree to give women equal right of suffrage with themselves. But this would not increase the enforcing power of the state at all. Paper money has a purchasing power when it repays cents gold and silver. If you issue twice as many bills as there is specie in the country, you reduce their purchasing power by one-half. In precisely the same manner a paper ballot represents the political unit behind it. If the voice of the ballot-box be obeyed, you call out your police force and your armies and enforce its mandate. Man is the power, the coercive force, in the state. Without that implied coercive force your laws become ineffective and ridiculous. —Mac-Jay.

To the Board of Instruction, Portsmouth, N. H.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Farragut school, which has been investigating the possibilities in regard to enlarging the school playground, has received a communication from Miss Alice Gerlach, offering to sell the property adjoining the school for $3500 to be used for school purposes only.

This property has a frontage on High street of about 83 feet and runs back 82 feet. It contains 6655 square feet. There are two fairly good houses on the lot which, of course, would have to be removed. The assessors' valuation of the property is $3500.

The need of a suitable play ground for the Farragut school is becoming more urgent every day on account of the increasing number of teams and automobiles passing through High and School streets.

In spite of the watchfulness of the teachers, we feel that our children are in constant danger, not only at recess time but before and after school.

We ask your careful and immediate consideration of this offer, and also that you use any means within your power to further the matter.

Executive Committee of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Farragut School.

Allison I. Kirk, Secretary.

OUR DAILY CABLE LETTER

ENGLAND NOW AS AMERICA WAS IN CIVIL WAR TIMES

London, June 1.—Major Evan R. Jones editor of the "Shipping World" pointed out today some striking analogies between the present situation in England and the American Civil war times. He said:

"Between the war for the perpetuity of the American Union of 1861-65 and the world struggle now taking place in France and Flanders and on the Russian borders in the East there are many things that are similar. For example, Alexander Stephens, afterwards vice president of the Southern Confederacy, declared that the campaign was inaugurated to establish the fact that slavery, the subordination of the colored race to the white, was to be the corner stone of the new government. 'Here in Europe we have a war avowedly waged at first, but now qualified and denied in part, for the domination of the civilized world by Prussian militarism working out the alleged philosophy of Treitschke and Nietzsche. Alexander Stephens fought for the subjugation of the colored race as the first principle of government under the German confederacy. The Kaiser is waging war for nothing less than the subjugation of the world.'

Following upon the nomination of Lincoln for the Presidency in the summer of 1860, steps were taken in advance, north and south, to cripple the incoming government in the interest of the Southern Confederacy. The little army of the Union was sent south and the little navy was sent beyond reach; arms and munitions were transported to southern arsenals; and up to the time when Sumpter was fired upon, the North remained incredulous, while men were drilling all over the Cotton states. Abraham Lincoln still adhered to his faith in reason to conquer the situation. The men of the North were undisciplined, undisciplined and unarmed. When the Fifth Wisconsin, in which the present writer served, passed through Baltimore on the way to Virginia there was only one company armed, and the first platoon leading at the head of the regiment while the second brought up the rear.

"And so we have found it in Europe, not quite to the same degree, perhaps, but to a serious degree nevertheless. As in the case of the North, Britain was practically unarmed, practically had no army, no big siege guns, no field artillery, while the forces of the Kaiser and Francis Joseph were ready to the button on the last haversack, were armed to the teeth and counted on a ready victory, the capture of Paris and Calais and Warsaw, and not without good reason.

"The Copperhead press of the United States was more vulgarly offensive than the Copperhead press of Britain, or shall I say London."

"Here is an example I can recall of the would be offensive piffle of Brick Pomeroy's celebrated Democratic organ published in Le Grange, Wisconsin. It was sought to belittle Grant's well known expression 'Let Us Have Peace.'"

And Brick Pomeroy converted it into "Let's have half peace."

Pittable piffle! No the British Copperhead press, while mischievous, while endeavoring to create dissension in the cabinet, while affecting without a feather's weight of authority for doing so to represent public opinion and the nation as a whole is fairly decent in its language.

But there is this one characteristic in these papers. Their editorial leaders are generally tolerable and sometimes able; but rarely is there one of them dealing with the war and its conduct that does not cast a poisoned arrow at the Prime Minister. What a contrast between these newspaper proprietors and writers and the leaders of his Majesty's Opposition in Parliament! The loyalty to the government, amounting to positive comradeship in many instances on the part of such men as Bonar Law, Mr. Balfour, and Mr. Austen Chamberlain, is beyond all praise.

To a great extent this was true in the United States where great leaders like Stephen A. Douglas and John A. Logan and many more, supported the party in power and President Lincoln to the utmost of their power. Finally the scales fell from the eyes of the Northern Copperheads, and they recognized a prince of men in the war splitter and redeemer of the slave. And so it will be here.

"A deputation called upon President Lincoln one day to complain of his conduct of the war; and he made the apt comparison between himself and Blondin, the man who walked across Niagara Falls on a rope. 'Gentlemen,' he said, suppose all the property you were worth was in gold, and you had put it in the hands of Blondin to carry across Niagara Falls on a rope, would you shake the cable or keep shouting out to him, 'Blondin, stand up a little straighter; Blondin stop a little more, go a little faster—lean a little more to the North—lean a little more to the South? No, you would hold your breath as well as your tongue, and keep your hands off until he was safe over. The government is carrying an immense weight. Untold treasures are in their hands. They are doing the very best they can. Don't badger them. Keep silence, and we'll get you safe across.' You patriotic hyper-critics will you please apply the Blondin parable to Asquith and yourself?"

PRETTY GIRLS ARE IN BOSTON

MISS CHENEY OF CONCORD IS NEW HAMPSHIRE'S WINNER

Boston, June 1.—The first of a three-day series of entertainments arranged by The Boston Traveler and The Boston Sunday Herald for the five pretty winners of the recent Free Panama-Pacific tour offer was begun early today.

The five girls, four of whom will represent their own individual states and the fifth, a delegate-at-large in the Congress of Pretty Women at California, are Miss Pauline Westphalen of Springfield, Mass.; Miss Julia Hamilton of Richmond, Vt.; Miss Forrester Denison of Portland, Me.; Miss Agnes M. Cheney of Concord, N. H.; and Miss Margaret V. McDonough of Jamaica Plain, delegate-at-large.

On arriving in Boston New England "Prettiest Girls" were met by Traveler representatives and taken to the Copple-Plaza Hotel where a luxurious suite of rooms has been placed at their disposal.

The first event on the day's program was a visit to the offices and plant of The Boston Herald and Traveler. At the "Prettiest Girls" entered the editorial rooms busy editors, copy readers and reporters forgot for a moment their pressing tasks, naturally anxious to see the party of pretty girls whom they indirectly helped to select.

As the girls were conducted around the plant they let loose a volley of questions. The mysteries of copy-reading and head-writing as well as the mechanical mysteries connected with linotype machine operation, stereotyping, etc., were explained to them by Mrs. Frye, their chaperon, as she conducted them from room to room.

After the tour of inspection was finished, the "Prettiest Girls" entered the four touring cars, which have been placed at their disposal through the courtesy of Mr. P. A. Hinchcliffe of the Winton Motor Car Company, Mr. J. S. Hathaway of The White Company, Mr. Harry Pyke of the Chalmers Motor Company and Mr. G. H. Lawrence of the Klass Kar.

All the girls wore flowers, supplied by Penn the Florist, and the table decorations at the hotels came from the same place.

The afternoon and early evening was spent motoring along the smooth boulevards of the South Shore visiting points of historic interest and scenic beauty.

As the sunlight faded and the sails of the yachts of Massachusetts Bay became a faint gray blur in the twilight, five hungry, happy, pretty girls alighted from the motors at the door of The Villa Napoli, where dinner was waiting for them.

Dinner over and the pretty tourists who are to travel together for more than 6000 miles, feeling better acquainted, the party finished the day's pleasure at Paragon Park.

At about 9 o'clock Mrs. Frye, with a word of caution to the "Prettiest Girls" that they must get a long rest in preparation for the many events of the morrow, lead the way to the waiting autos and the party was whisked back to the hotel.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, June 2.—Combinations of exporters for the purpose of maintaining selling agencies abroad, as well as combinations of banking interests for the purpose of establishing banks in South American countries so that import and export business can be facilitated, were recommended to the members of the Federal Trade Commission who are today holding a conference with New England business men at the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The commission which is headed by Chairman Davies, former Federal Commissioner of Corporations, met a score or more of the prominent business men, manufacturers and bankers of New England at this conference. The hearing was the first extended one given by the commission since its organization.

MANY THINK THAT "JOHN BULL" NEEDS A FEW JOLTS

London, June 2.—George Bernard Shaw is not alone these days in his attempts to unsettle the complacency of the Englishman. There is a very evident change here from the universally confident, bragging spirit, the "Just let Britain get started" feeling of last autumn. W. H. White is one of those who believes John Bull needs jolting. He writes:

What do they know of Germany who only England know? Mightily little, it is obvious. Did the milkman call this morning? Yes? I thought so and I had a very serious purpose in putting the question. Presently there will arrive at your house a succession of fresh-faced, healthy, strapping young men from the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, the green grocer, the fishmonger, and the rest of the people who, thanks to Providence and the British navy, still provide our lusty British appetites with five meals a day.

Oh, what a happy life is England! Armageddon rages half the world over Poland is a slaughter house, Belgium one big bonfire half damped down with blood. But in England the tradesmen call us usual.

It is comforting to think of it, and as we munch our breakfast roll or get into the "prime beef"—the Roast Beef of Old England from the Argentine—we thank God that we are not as the Germans are.

Starving, poor devils, absolutely starving!

Haven't you heard about it? Bread riots in Frankfurt; markets stormed in Munich; children dying for want of milk in Hamburg; and eggs, 10s a dozen.

To all that there is but one reply, vulgar, but so apt that perhaps it may be pardoned for using it—"I don't think!"

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, the green grocer, the fishmonger, and the rest of the tradesmen are calling in Berlin with precisely the same regularly as their British confederates are doing their rounds in Putney or Park Lane.

In England we are the proud possessors of one cow to every sixteen inhabitants. In Germany they can boast one cow to every five inhabitants. How can there be any shortage of milk in Germany?

Remember, too, that goat's milk is generally consumed in Germany, whereas here we regard it simply as a species of freak temperance drink. Germany has exactly ten times as many goats as we have.

Now as to the candlestick maker who, for the sake of convenience, I will presume supplies the bacon and eggs. When the war began there was potential bacon in Germany to the extent of twenty-five million pigs. That is to say, Germany had seven times as many pigs as we had.

Eggs? Almost countless millions of them. Germany had so many eggs that she used to spare England sixty million eggs out of her surplus every year.

The butcher? The price of meat today in Germany is normal. She took from Holland all the vast supplies of meat that ordinarily came to Smithfield in the autumn.

Bread? Ah, there you think you are going to have me. "They are down to potato bread," you say. Right—oh. But just listen to this.

Germany's shortage is breadstuffs which she produced herself was, in normal times, only 8 per cent. The drought last spring, the disturbance caused by the French in Alsace-Lorraine, and the advances of the Russians in East Prussia brought the shortage up to 15 per cent, all told.

By economy, by the introduction of a small percentage of potato meal and by the system of the "bread ticket" the deficit has been completely wiped out. There is now, indeed, an actual surplus of 20 per cent to add to the coming harvest.

Germany therefore—even at the present rate of consumption—stands assured of her bread for a year, if not fifteen months.

That, whichever way you like to look at it, is a magnificent achievement in both political and scientific domestic economy.

I would remind you, too, that it is the spirit of the German people which has helped. Mr. Lloyd George's praise, "the potato bread spirit," is as popular a catchword in Germany today as "Gott strafe England." They are proud of it.

RUSSIANS SAVE PRZEMYSL: FOE NOW IN FIGHT

Petrograd, June 1.—"The Austro-German offensive around Przemyśl has been definitely stopped," said a semi official announcement this afternoon. "Both north and south of Przemyśl the enemy is now entirely on the defensive."

Gen. Mackensen's left wing is being forced back against the San and across the river Lubaczowka. The Russian line is pushing forward north westerly, rolling back an army corps of exhausted Germans. Russian cavalry is harassing the flanks of the enemy, now reported falling back in confusion.

South of Przemyśl, in the region of Chyrow, the Russians have taken the offensive and have made slight advances. The number of Austro-German prisoners is steadily increasing.

ALLIES PUSH UP GALLIPOLI

Paris, June 1.—There was given out in Paris this afternoon the following official report on the operations in the Dardanelles:

"The fighting has resolved itself, for several days past, to engagements over a limited area. These have taken place almost daily, and they all have come to an end with gains for the allied troops.

"On the western slope of the ravine of Levees Dore a detachment of volunteers belonging to a Colonial regiment, captured by assault on Friday evening, a small fort which the enemy had built at the left end of his line, and which dominated our trenches. Our men went forward with such speed that the defenders of this fort, taken by surprise, fled without making any resistance. Two counter-attacks delivered by the Turks, in large numbers, the purpose of which was to recapture the fort in question, were repulsed by us, and the enemy suffered heavy losses."

"The British troops also won a brilliant success in repulsing a violent assault near Gaba Tepe."

Only 5% PLUS for the Best "Non-Skid"

PRACTICALLY all Non-Skid Tires that make serious claims to non-skid efficiency cost you 10% to 30% more than Plain Tread Tires of same brand and material.

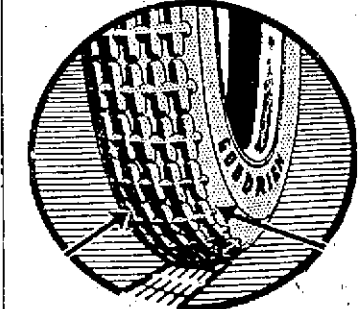

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires cost you only 5% more than our plain tread tires.

Here's how and why!

FORTY-FIVE years of Rubber working (in what is now the World's largest Rubber Factory) has taught us a few Kinks and Short-cuts that are not common to the Trade.

One of these now comes to the help of your Pocket-book.

Through the simple process of Thinking Hard (and being Candid with ourselves) we have found a Short-Cut to make the best Safety Tread ever put on a Tire cost us only about 5% more than it costs to make the Plain-Tread of similar quality.

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires cost you only 5% more than our own or any other plain tread tires

Note the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A," "B," "C," and "D" represent four highly advertised tires:

Size	Goodrich Safety Tread	"A"	"B"	"C"	"D"
30 x 3 1/2	$9.45	$10.55	$10.95	$10.35	$10.10
30 x 3 1/4	12.20	13.35	14.20	12.70	12.50
32 x 3 1/2	14.00	15.40	16.20	14.85	14.50
34 x 4	20.35	22.30	23.80	21.15	20.55
36 x 4 1/2	29.70	32.15	33.60	31.85	31.40
37 x 5	33.20	35.80	37.60	34.85	34.00

By testing out these Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires on a large number of Taxicabs (where they could be competitively observed and carefully checked up at the end of each day's use) and by comparing their actual performance with that of our own, and other Plain-Treads, of much higher price, we have had this fact forced upon us—

Viz:—That there is SURPRISINGLY more Mileage, in Goodrich Safety Tread Tires, than in our own, or any other, make of Plain-Tread Tires.

So MUCH more Mileage, for only 5% more Cost, looked so good to us that we decided to give Car Owners the benefit.

Here's what we now offer you!

The best Non-Skid Safety Tread ever put on the market, and it costs you only 5% more than our best plain tread tire.

CROWNS OF GLORY RICHES OF GRACE

God's New Creation Purposed Before the World Began.

The Lord Jesus the First Member of the New Creation—Steps to the Glory Plane—The Church Called to Follow Him—Real and Imitation Christians—Preparations For Appearing in Jehovah's Presence.

PASTOR RUSSELL

San Francisco, Cal., May 30.—Pastor Russell spoke here today from the text, "All things are yours; and ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's."—1 Cor. iuthians 8:2, 23.

The Pastor demonstrated from St. Paul's writings that before the creation of our planet God had purposed a Church class. The terms and conditions for membership in this New Creation were also arranged. As the Father wished that in all things His Son, the Logos, should have pre-eminence, the first offer was made to Him. To gain this prize of a new nature on the highest plane, the Logos must demonstrate His love and loyalty by implicit obedience to the Father's will. So He left the heavenly glory and humbled Himself to become a man—not a sinful man, but perfect human nature.—Philippians 2:7-11.

Then He humbled Himself still further, even unto the ignominious death of the Cross, on the charge of blasphemy against God. After His death and resurrection He ascended into the Father's presence, where He did a work for the Church. (Hebrews 9:24.) Then the Father gave Him the Holy Spirit to shed forth upon the faithful little band of disciples. (Acts 2:33.) This indicated that Christ is God's—that God had glorified Him, and that begetting to the Divine nature would be granted to all who follow His steps.—2 Corinthians 5:17; 2 Peter 1:4.

For eighteen hundred years the Gospel Message has gone forth, to call from amongst mankind those who will follow Jesus and become members of the Body of Christ—the New Creation. These are to be His joint-heirs in the Heavenly inheritance. We are now living in "the last time," the end of the Gospel Age, when this special salvation of the Church is to be revealed.—1 Peter 1:3, 5.

Following His Steps.

The speaker then discussed membership in this New Creation. "Those who desire to become members must first turn heartily away from sin and toward God. This must be a thorough change of disposition; they must see that sin is injurious. The Divine Court of the Universe has attached to sin the penalty of death, bringing degradation, sickness, sorrow, pain and dying. Those who turn to God should fear lest sin contaminate them and jeopardize their future life.

But they were born under the death penalty which Adam's disobedience entailed upon all his posterity. God has made an arrangement, however, by which they may get back into His family. Our Lord Jesus Christ has by His death redeemed Adam and all his race; and those desirous of turning from sin may have their sins forgiven. If they avail themselves of the opportunity and become followers of Jesus. (Matthew 10:24.) Those who take these steps are begotten of the Holy Spirit and become probationary members of the Body of Christ.

Not many see clearly what it is to be a Christian, the Pastor declared. This is why several hundred million so-called Christians in Europe are killing each other. Not knowing what Christianity is, they do not manifest its spirit. But God knows who are wheat and who are tares. When the wheat class are all changed in the First Resurrection, the tares will be burned—destroyed as tares, not as human beings. All should know that there are but two classes, real Christians and the world of mankind.

Honestly the Fundamental Quality.

According to the Bible God desires only 144,000 members in the Body of Christ. All others will have their opportunity during the Millennium Kingdom, when The Christ will restore and uplift all the willing and obedient of Adam's race to the perfection lost in Eden and redeemed at Calvary. Wherever the Truth goes, it touches the honest hearts of those not too much blinded by the Adversary. Gradually these realize that God has purposed a New Creation, of which Jesus will be the Head and the Church the Body. When we see this, our minds open; for God begets us with His Holy Spirit, which enables us to understand the deep things of God's Word.—1 Corinthians 2:14.

But only those who make a Covenant of Sacrifice with God receive this blessing. (Psalm 60:5.) However, it is one thing to enter into a covenant and another thing to keep it. But God is not proving the flesh; He is trying the spirit. What counts with Him is the real desire of the heart. Only those who are not sufficiently loyal and who fail to develop the right character will be rejected. The New Creation must keep unspotted from the world. There is only one kind of cleansing fluid which will remove spots of anger, impatience, evil speaking, injustice, etc.—the blood of Jesus Christ.—1 John 1:7.

FOR BENEFIT OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

"A Russian Honeymoon" Repeated at High School Hall.

The three act drama entitled "A Russian Honeymoon" which was given two weeks ago by the Portsmouth Teachers' Association, was repeated on Tuesday evening at high school Assembly Hall for the benefit of the Athletic Association of the school.

Each and every one of the players carried out their part very well and scored the same big hit that they did on their previous performance. This second performance was even better than the first.

Special mention should be made of Mr. Stander whose second appearance was declared by all to be even better than the first, and when he appeared in the final scene he was given a great burst of applause.

Mr. Nickerson played the role of Ivan, the old shoemaker in the best manner possible and kept the audience delighted throughout the evening by his clever acting and speeches.

Mr. Malnes, as Osh, the young peasant lad, also furnished much amusement and he carried his part out very cleverly.

Miss Crowley as Alexis' wife, Miss Rand as the shoemaker's daughter, and Miss Graves Alexis' sister were all very good and their appearance was a creditable one indeed.

Mention should also be made of Mr. Whittier's clever acting.

There was a good attendance and a fair sum of money was taken in for the Athletic Association.

The cast was the same as on the previous performance as follows:
Alexis Petrovitch, a journeyman, after-ward Gustave, Count Worofski
..... H. S. Stander
Poliska, his wife Miss Mary Crowley
Baroness Vladimira, his sister, Miss Marjorie Graves
Ivan, a master shoemaker Paul Nickerson
Michelle, his daughter Miss Mary Rand
Kouloff Demetrovitch, G. Whittier
Osh, a young peasant, E. A. Malnes
Scene, a Russian peasant's cottage.

PLAISTOW GIRL MISSING

Sixteen-Year-Old Hazel P. Gale Not Seen Since Last Friday Evening.

The police of various cities have been asked to assist in the search for 16 year old Hazel P. Gale of Plaistow, N. H. who disappeared from her home last Friday evening. The last seen of her was when she boarded an evening train for Boston at Haverhill.

The girl was exceedingly attractive and popular in her home town and in Haverhill.

Her father mentioned two men who he felt could give some explanation of her disappearance.

While no trace of the girl has been found, both of these men have been attending to their business daily but one was aboard the train on which the girl left.

The young woman had been a waitress at Buntin Island, Me., but gave up her position Thursday and arrived home Friday. After packing her trunk that evening she went to Haverhill to board the train.

Hazel Gale was about 5 feet tall, weighed 100 pounds, had large blue eyes and at the time of her departure wore a long blue coat and small black straw hat.

GREEN-FIELD.

Brilliant Wedding at Home of Aunt on Madison Street.

The initial June wedding of the year took place on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock when Henry Lawrence Green, Jr., of Worcester, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lawrence Green, took Miss Hazel Maflon Field, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams Field for his bride.

The ceremony took place at the residence of Miss Mignon B. Green of Madison street, who is an aunt of the groom, and was performed by Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, pastor of the North Congregational church in this city, the full ring service being used. The nuptials were unattended.

Miss Green officiated as pianist and played Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus before the ceremony and Mendelssohn's Wedding March after the ritual had been repeated.

The entire house was elaborately decorated with roses and greenery, and it was most assuredly "a rose" wedding. The nuptials stood under a rose bower, arranged in arch effect, and the bride presented a charming picture in a rich creation of white pussy willow tulle and chiffon, which was of most artistic fashion.

The groom's gift to his bride was a beautiful gold bracelet, while the bride presented the groom with an elaborate silver cigarette case.

At the conclusion of the ceremony an informal reception was held, and a dainty lunch was served by Miss Green.

The bride's traveling suit was of blue garbardin, with hat of blue straw.

The happy couple will pass their honeymoon at the summer home of the groom's parents at Rye North Beach, after which they will leave to take up their residence on "Sunset Farm" at Duxton, Mass.

The groom owns this large farm, and personally superintends the work here, where he has acted in this capacity for a year, after leaving New Hampshire State Agricultural College at Durham.

The bride was formerly a student at Miss Kimball's boarding school for girls at Worcester, and a very intimate friend of the Green family. Upon the occasion of Miss Helen Green's marriage to Mr. James Lowell a year ago, she acted as maid of honor.

The young people are most popular among the younger set and the hearty wishes for a bright and happy future are extended by all who know them. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Smith of Worcester.

MR. WANAMAKER DOES NOT RISK LIVES OF BUYERS

Miss Cox, representative of John Wanamaker, of New York in Paris, said in an interview today that Mr. Wanamaker would not endanger the lives of buyers. It is therefore, unlikely that many will be in Paris this season. Orders however, for shipments have not fallen off in the least in any line. In fact, business is perhaps livelier, especially in novelties. Neckwear and laces are doing a tremendous order business. The Parisian market still leads, regardless of the war, and it is remarkable how Paris continues to create new ideas in fashions, when so crippled by the loss of men.

Mr. Wanamaker makes buying in the Paris markets a great feature in his New York and Philadelphia stores. Several Wanamaker buyers are coming to Paris by way of China, Japan and Russia and are buying everywhere.

That the heart of Mr. Wanamaker beats for Paris is shown by the fact that the Rodman Wanamaker Hotel in the Champs Elysee, has been converted into a hospital for the French wounded. Forty patients are now there.

Boast Portsmouth today and every day.

TWO MEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

They Jump Into the Sea When Motor Boat Burns.

Supt. P. Schirmer of the Portsmouth Brewing Co.'s bottling plant, had a narrow escape from drowning on Monday evening and he will not soon forget his experience. On Monday he left Boston in his motor boat with an assistant by the name of Miles, and all went well until they reached this harbor, when by some unknown means the boat took fire and both the owner and Mr. Miles had to jump for their lives. Mr. Schirmer was burned about the hands and they had a struggle in the cold water for some minutes with their heavy clothing on before they reached the shore. The motor boat was burned to the water's edge and is a total loss.

Pictures can be classed as necessities in all homes.

There is always a superfluity of cheap, light-weight silver and a scarcity of pictures among presents especially WEDDING PRESENTS.

A picture is never used up, never thrown aside, but is always a pleasing reminder.

And pictures are not always costly. A good subject, framed appropriately and tastefully, may be had for the price of an undesirable and cheap piece of glass or silver.

THE SOUTH SWINGS TOWARD SUFFRAGE

In the legislative history of this year one fact stands above all others: The Southern States are swinging toward equal suffrage. In rapid succession the legislatures of West Virginia, Tennessee and Arkansas voted to submit suffrage amendments. The total vote in these three States was 278 in favor and 56 against.

So far this year the only Southern State legislatures to vote upon a suffrage amendment were those of Delaware, West Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, North Carolina, Florida, Oklahoma and Texas. The total vote on suffrage in all these States was 469 for and 233 against. Within the next two months the Legislatures of Georgia and Alabama will be asked to give the men of those States an opportunity to vote upon the enfranchisement of women.
